

2. In two sentences write down what happened in the last book.

1. Draw your favourite character.

4. Design a new cover for the book. Don't just copy the cover - be original.

3. If you met the main character in your story would you like them or not? Can you explain why?

10. Write or show with a diagram how a non-fiction book is set out.

5. What was the best bit of this book? Draw a picture to show it.

9. Can you draw a picture showing something else the main character could be doing?

8. Write a new "blurb" for the back of the book.

6. Read the story to a friend or someone in your family. Get them to how well you did in your log.

7. Write three sentences giving a different ending for the story you are reading.

Whatever you do, make sure you write down the title of the book, the number of the task and the date.
