GOVERNORS' CHRISTMAS
NEWSLETTER 2013

Dear Parents, Carers, Staff and Children,

First of all, well done to all the staff and children for the most fantastic Ofsted report! This is proof of how working together as an effective and efficient team can get us the well-deserved result we have been craving for such a long time. The Governors would like to take this opportunity to thank Mrs Roberts and her entire team (the teaching and support staff plus the office administrators) who have all worked tirelessly to achieve this much sought-after accolade. Personally, I would also like to say a big thank you to my fellow governors who have pulled together to form a very dynamic panel, full of relevant expertise and strong support for our school's ethos.

For those of you who may not have already read the Ofsted report here are some highlights that give you a "flavour":

"The headteacher provides sensitive and exemplary leadership. She has brought together an effective team of staff who work hard for the pupils. Staff enjoy working at the school. "

"The headteacher has driven the school forward extremely well during the past three years. Attainment and rates of progress have both risen significantly because of good attention to detail in improving the quality of teaching and regular, careful analysis of information about pupils' progress. "

"The governing body plays a key role in the school's development. Governors are active in both supporting the school and also holding it to account. "Governors challenge the school well and are not afraid to ask questions ... Governors understand the arrangements for checking staff performance."

"There is a good level of consultation with staff and governors before it [the School development Plan] is written, and account is also taken of parents' and pupils' views. "

"Subject and team leaders have risen to the challenge in the responsibilities they have been given. They keep a good oversight of aspects of teaching and learning using a range of techniques, including asking pupils' about their learning. "

"Pupils feel safe in school because they trust their teachers and find all staff caring. They say that they like school because it is well organised with a good working atmosphere. "

"Pupils treat each other well. As one put it, 'We know we should care about each other equally and with respect and also other people.' They understand the school motto, 'Happy and successful' and see perseverance when you get something wrong as something to be proud of. "

Thank you for your continued support and enthusiasm. Well done to the PTA team for another sensational Christmas Market!

With very best wishes to you all for a very Merry Christmas and a Happy and Peaceful Centennial Year 2014.
